CONSENT

I am aware that electrolysis does involve a series of treatments. If the hair in the area being treated has been tweezed for years it will require more treatments since the hair is coarse and distorted.

If the hair being treated has not been tweezed it will require less treatments due to the soft texture and shallow roots.

It is important to stay on a regular schedule due to the cycle in which the hair grows, between two (2) – four (4) weeks. After a series of consistent treatments between four (4) to six (6) months the regrowth will become less. In addition, appointments will be scheduled farther apart.

Please read and initial the following statements to better understand how the electrolysis procedure works.

_____ Electrolysis is a medically approved method of permanent hair removal. Only actively growing hairs and follicles are affected, several treatments are necessary.

_____ I understand that the treatment works on actively growing hairs and follicles, not any of those that are dormant. For this reason it will require several session to complete the course of treatment.

_____ I am aware of the following possible risks associated with this treatment include, but not limited to:

- Redness / Swelling - may be seen, depending upon the amount of current needed to remove your individual texture of hair and your body reaction. This is temporary and will usually disappear within a short period of time, after your treatment. Applying ice or a cold compress to the treated area will help reduce the swelling faster.
- Pinpoint Scabs - may be observed occasionally. Pinpoint scabs are a normal part of the healing process. It usually takes 2-3 days for the scabs to develop, depending on your normal healing process. DO NOT pick, scratch exfoliate or remove the scabs, as this may cause scarring. Scabs will fall off naturally.
- Herpes - Herpes Simplex Virus Activation
- Bruising - may occasionally be noted as a result of a small capillary being punctured by a probe, thus causing a bruise. The normal healing process will absorb the bruise and this is dependent on how quickly your body heals.

_____ I have also been advised and agree that the goal of the procedure I have requested is improvement in the appearance, not perfection, that there is a possibility that imperfections might ensue, and that the results might not meet my expectations or the goals that have been established. In relation to this I know that the practice of electrolysis is not an exact science and that, therefore, no guarantee or assurance has been made by anyone regarding the procedures which I have herein requested and authorized.

_____ I certify that I have read this entire consent form and all of my questions have been answered. I understand and agree to the information provided above. I consent and authorize the Esthetic Laser Clinic, LLC. to perform the treatment of electrolysis by a licensed technician.

_____ Expectations from the treatments will be explained to me. My questioning regarding the treatments will be answered to my satisfaction.
